Step 4. Choose to change the current battery from "Battery", to "Suspend", as you want the device to sleep in power state.

There should be no need to reboot after download. However, don't try to do the installation while you're connected to the Internet. The Odin software will automatically shutdown if it finds any connection issues. It might take up to 15 minutes before the process is finished.. Step 6. Set "Power Saving Mode", Under "Possible settings to enable/disable battery life". Set an "Always On" setting to true, and a long press should have no negative effects either, you will be able to use your device as it normally would.. The final screen of The Odin app will ask whether you would like to remove ads. Click Yes to proceed. If you selected "No" to continue with the download process, it probably doesn't do anything, and you'll be asked to install the Aroma update by the same process. A third-party tool called Titanium Backup will backup and restore your data during and after a system wipe. Titanium Backup allows you to create backups of your phone, install app updates, and remove data while also keeping the SD card and the memory cards clean. See Titanium Backup for more information. If none of this sounds like you, there is also the optional Titanium Backup app that you can install yourself. If you're interested, check out our previous post on Titanium Backup for the official link. To install the Titanium Backup app through USB, download the Titanium Backup app from the Apple Support site. Connect your phone to USB and start it up. Tap on the screen and tap on "File Manager". Select the folder associated with your backup files. Select "Manage" from the dropdown menu. Make sure that "All contents" is selected so that your phone can't boot to recovery. At this point, your backup files should now be placed in the file.2.1.2/8.2.1-1+b2335b0e.. Step 9. This will restart your system. Step 10. You can access the internet from your phone, which is not recommended, so it is suggested to hold the power button, press the volume down to select the "Power" button, and enter your computer password.. If you are experiencing these issues after flashing the device, and they appear with no further response, please follow the steps below.
